Looking to the future- Multiple Awnings presents the SEAMLESS seam

Beloil, January 1, 2007 – Multiple Awnings, the largest manufacturer of residential and commercial awnings in Canada, has acquired technologically advanced equipment that heat-seals acrylic panels together to provide unequalled efficiency and waterproofing.

This new process completely eliminates seams, therefore avoiding sewing needle holes that sometimes let water leak through in heavy rain conditions. Plus, because it is heat sealed, the canvas does not need the repairs that others often require after 5 years of use.

This new American technology is now available.
